DETAILED ACTION

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

The submitted IDS documents have been made of record.

Specification

2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Satoh et al further considered with Maurer et al.

Satoh et al discloses a disc playback system permitting a user to interface with it by inputting appropriate commands from the user – see for instance figures 11-12 and the disclosure thereof.

Maurer et al discloses the ability of having voice prompts.

It would have been obvious to modify the base system of Satoh et al with the above teaching from Maurer et al; motivation is to permit a prompting capability for the Satoh et al system so as to permit the user to interface with the system. Such user prompts from telephone

Art Unit: 2627

"troubleshooting" systems that prompt a user (dialer) to input appropriate signal/value/input signal as required.

Claim 12 is interpreted as a method, and along with claim 11 is met when the above system operates.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The remaining prior art is cited as illustrative of disc discrimination systems in this environment.
